Dear Mr. Kahle:

The Defense Technical Information Center (DTIC) is holding its Annual Users Training Conference, DTIC '93, 1-4 November 1993. We are honored that you have agreed to present the keynote address on 3 November 1993. The conference is scheduled to start at 0830. We have allowed 45 minutes for this portion of the agenda, including questions from the audience. If you would prefer not to include a question period, the schedule can be adjusted accordingly. The conference location is the Stouffer Concourse Hotel, Arlington, VA.

Our conference usually draws approximately 400 representatives from both government and the private sector, including information providers, researchers, managers, planners, and policy-makers.

The theme of this year's conference is Information and Technology: Teamed for Success. We have structured the contents of the meeting to address the information sources and changing technologies that will impact those who are involved in Defense research and acquisition. I know that your insights into the many changes that are occurring in information technology will certainly be of major interest to the conference attendees.

I look forward to your participation in our conference. If you have any questions, or need further information, please call me at (703) 274-6800.

Sincerely,

KURT N. MOLHOLM
